

FFA and Envirothon Competitions

The State FFA Advisor approached the Envirothon several years ago about their local FFA teams using our State Competition instead of them developing a separate State Competition for their state Environmental Quality Competition.

An agreement was reached.

Any FFA team may enter the Envirothon competition. However, to be able to compete for the opportunity to represent the state of NC at the National Canon Envirothon competition, the FFA team must qualify by being in the top 7 teams at the Area Envirothon Competition and must then win the State Envirothon competition. If you are in the top seven and are the highest scoring FFA team, you qualify to also compete for the opportunity to represent NC at the FFA National Environmental quality competition. You then have to be the highest scoring FFA team at the State Envirothon. To go to both national competitions, you would have to qualify at the Area Competition and then be the highest scoring team at the State Envirothon. No team has qualified for both, however, it is possible to do so.

North Carolina has done excellent at the National FFA competition. Our NC teams have been National winners I think four times out of 6 years.
